Course Description

This is an English Communication course. Focus will be on improving the four major English skills-speaking, listening, reading and writing. Various communication activities, individual/group work, and presentations will be used in class to facilitate the acquisition of these skills. Upon completion of this course, students should have increased confidence in their ability to speak and understand English and communicate more confidently in English with those around them.

Textbooks

Interchange Book 2 with Audio CD (Third Edition) by Jack C. Richards (Cambridge University Press) as well as materials prepared by the instructor.

( ○ ) References Available in the library: ○

Students are encouraged to have both an English-to-Japanese and Japanese-to-English dictionary.

Preparation and Review

Preparation for the Class

Students are expected to bring the following to class: 1) textbook 2) notebook 3) clear file or folder 4) electronic dictionary. In addition, READ English books to increase your vocabulary. Write down vocabulary and phrases you don't know and then try to use those words and phrases in English conversation whenever you can. WATCH English movies and LISTEN to English music in order to create your own English listening environment. Be ready to ask questions in English, speak English, write English and listen to English. Stop being over-dependent on your electronic dictionary to learn English.

Remarks

None

Message from the Instructor

This is an English Communication class, so all students are expected to speak English as much as possible. Your instructor will do the same. The instructor will provide a fun, learning environment for the students. Thomas Jefferson once said, "Nothing can stop the man with the right mental attitude from achieving his goal; nothing on earth can help the man with the wrong mental attitude." Having the right attitude for learning English will help the student achieve the goals for this class.

Preparation for the Class

Students are expected to bring the following to class: 1) textbook 2) notebook 3) clear file or folder 4) electronic dictionary. In addition, READ English books to increase your vocabulary. Write down vocabulary and phrases you don't know and then try to use those words and phrases in English conversation whenever you can. WATCH English movies and LISTEN to English music in order to create your own English listening environment. Be ready to ask questions in English, speak English, write English and listen to English. Stop being over-dependent on your electronic dictionary to learn English.

Remarks

Message from the Instructor

This is an English Communication class, so all students are expected to speak English as much as possible. Your instructor will do the same. The instructor will provide a fun, learning environment for the students. Thomas Jefferson once said, "Nothing can stop the man with the right mental attitude from achieving his goal; nothing on earth can help the man with the wrong mental attitude." Having the right attitude for learning English will help the student achieve the goals for this class.

Course Description

Students in this course will study the four language skills. They will go systematically through the exercises in the textbook as the teacher sees fit. Each unit will take one whole class and part of another. The final 1/2 of the second class will be devoted to a dialog test, in which each student will memorize the dialog and then make small changes in it.

Course Description

The goal of this course is to improve students' English communication abilities. The focus will be on increasing reading and speaking speed to help with overall English comprehension as well as improve communication skills for international situations. Students are encouraged to focus less on grammar and syntactical precision, and more on conversation skills. ### Course Description

This is an English communications course that develops the four English language skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The main objective of this course is to help you improve each of these skills as presented in various different circumstances. The course aims to help students activate the English that they have learned in secondary school for oral communication as well as further develop their skills in line with the demands of purposeful communication tasks. Class time is thus spent with students: 1. using their English actively with their classmates in pairs and small groups to complete communication tasks, and 2. listening and watching samples of proficient speakers performing the same tasks while completing activities which focuses their attention on relevant aspects of the meaning and the language forms used.

Course Description

The aim of this course is to help students activate the English that they have learned in secondary school for oral communication as well as further develop their skills in line with the demands of purposeful communication tasks. Class time is thus spent with students: (1) using their English actively with their classmates in pairs and small groups to complete communication tasks, and (2) listening and watching samples of proficient speakers performing the same tasks while completing activities which focus their attention on relevant aspects of the meaning and the language forms used.

Course Description

The major object of this course is to learn basic knowledge of contemporary Japanese culture and society. For the purpose, this course deals with a wide range of the latest topics in Japanese society as shown below. Through the course, students are encouraged to grow their own critical perspective to examine those topics. While this course emphasizes the unique characteristics of contemporary Japanese culture and society, it also discusses some common in our society in the age of globalization.

∕Course Description

The aim of this course is to read 'Otaku: Japan's Database Animals', one of the most controversial critiques of contemporary Japanese culture and society in the last decade. In the discussion of the nature of contemporary 'Otaku' culture in Japan, by using a wide range of sociological, cultural and philosophical terms, the author attempts to create a social theory to characterize contemporary Japanese society. Through reading and discussing this exciting text in the course, it expects students to develop the ways in which they consider contemporary Japanese society, after the rise of hyper consumer society in advanced media technologies.

Course Description

Aim of this course is further development of reading and discussion skills. Newspaper articles, essays, and short fiction will be used to increase reading speed, expand vocabulary, and improve discussion skills. Reading, comprehension & speaking exercises are conducted on individual basis, as well as in pair and work-group format. Students are expected to keep a reading log and to prepare sample texts and study guides. Exercises are designed to help students prepare for reading sections of standardized tests (TOEIC & TOEFL).

Course Description

The aim of this course is to help students activate the English that they have learned in secondary school for oral communication as well as further develop their skills in line with the demands of purposeful communication tasks. Class time is thus spent with students: (1) using their English actively with their classmates in pairs and small groups to complete communication tasks, and (2) listening and watching samples of proficient speakers performing the same tasks while completing activities which focus their attention on relevant aspects of the meaning and the language forms used.

Course Description

The aim of this course is to help students activate the English that they have learned in secondary school for oral communication as well as further develop their skills in line with the demands of purposeful communication tasks. Class time is thus spent with students: (1) using their English actively with their classmates in pairs and small groups to complete communication tasks, and (2) listening and watching samples of proficient speakers performing the same tasks while completing activities which focus their attention on relevant aspects of the meaning and the language forms used.
